Training for employees of the Material Reserve Agency of the MAI regarding the submission of declarations of assets and personal interests, conflicts of interest, restrictions and limitations

On March 1, the current National Integrity Authority organized a training session for the employees of the Material Reserve Agency of the MAI regarding the submission of declarations of wealth and personal interests, conflicts of interest, restrictions and limitations.

This had the objective of informing and guiding leading and executive civil servants in matters of integrity, namely: the process of submitting declarations of wealth and personal interests, compliance with the legal regime of conflicts of interest, incompatibilities, restrictions and limitations.

